THE GREAT DIVORCE CASE

LATEST TELEGRAMS

Agent Wilcox Interviewed.

Denver 22.—Indian Agent Wilcox was interviewed this evening and says he has received a telegram from the secretary of the interior to the effect that the adult renegade Chiricahuas captured by General Crook and now camped near Fort Grant, will not be permitted to return to San Carlos. The children will be received and cared for until such time as government provides for them at one of the Indian schools. Wilcox says he understands the Mexican authorities have demanded a return into custody of the bucks for the reason that the Indians were captured on Mexican soil. The agent believes the demands are just and hopes they will be complied with, thus securing to the Indians unaltered justice and in a manner peculiar to Apache butchers. Wilcox is a great admirer of General Crook, whom he declares will never rest until old Ju is corralled and Charlie McComes rescued.

Hemped.

Clarksburg, Ark., 22.—The prisoners slept soundly, and talked freely in the morning, and read the Bible. McDonald described the white man he murdered at Silver City, Montana County. He complained of being compelled to leave a blind wife and five children destitute. He believed she would not survive him ten days. He declared he was innocent if he said he believed his nephew, Jimmy, fired the fatal shot at Conductor Gains. Jimmy said if he committed the crime he did not know it. Geo. Johnson lazily smoked a cigar on the scaffold as sheriff read the warrant. Addressing the crowd, Johnson said: "I have no confession to make now; what I've told before is the truth. He wanted all young men to read a letter from Jimmy's mother to her son and take warning from this scene. As the black cap was drawn over their faces Jimmy fainted. The others stood firm. At 12.45 the drop fell, and the criminals were swung off.

Nary a Duel.

Richmond, Va., 22.—Telegrams to-night report the arrest, near Hanover Junction, twenty-five miles from Richmond, of Beirne, one of the principals, and Page McCarty and W. W. Archer, his friends; also Waverly Ragland, of the Elam party. No fight is reported, and it is believed that none has taken place. Beirne was killed, and went to his home in Ashland.

Richmond, 22.—It appears that Mayor Carrington received information as to the locality in which the belligerents were to meet, and sent a police officer over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway to Hanover Junction. On getting off the train the officer discovered the party and took them into custody. It has been since ascertained that the duel had been arranged for this afternoon, but for the sudden appearance of the officer, ten minutes more would not have elapsed before the fight would have taken place. As it was it would have been all over but for some disagreement between McCarty, Beirne second, and Ragland, second of Elam, about the pistols to be used. That trouble being settled the party were about moving to the place where Elam was waiting when they were arrested. It is reported that in accepting the challenge Elam named Colts revolvers, seven each, both to advance after the first fire, that Beirne had agreed to the conditions and that the disagreement which caused delay at the last moment was that the pistols, brought by Elam's friend, were not Colts revolvers but smaller, and not as effective a weapon. McCarty wanted the fight to go on with the regular dueling pistols which they had, but finally they agreed to use revolvers.

Pork Grease Perjurors.

Chicago, 22.—Wm. McCullom and Wm. Taskey, formerly employees of Fowler Brothers, who in the McGeech-Fowler lard investigation testified for the prosecution that Fowler's lard was largely adulterated, and yesterday it was stated in these dispatches that they testified in behalf of the defense that the former statements were false in every particular and they were hired by the prosecution for $30 each to make such false statements. They were arrested to-day and held in bonds to the 30th inst. to answer to the charge of perjury.

Lost in the Desert.

Leavenworth, 22.—David Phillips brother of Wm. A. Phillips, while suffering from the effects of heat left a train on the Southern Pacific Railroad at midnight about two weeks ago and wandered into a sandy desert, seventy miles west of Yuma. Search was kept up ten days by parties from Yuma, California, but he was finally given up as lost. Colonel Phillips' two sons were with the searching party.

Rising Rivers.

Helena, Ark., 22.—Water is pouring through the crevices just above Frier's Point, Mississippi, flooding many farms in that locality. It also threatens to overflow all the country from Helena, south to the Laconia circle not protected by levees. The damage by the present high water cannot be overcome, for when it recedes it will be too late to replant crops.

Miscellaneous.

Paris, 22.—Gustav Aimard, French novelist, is dead.
Dublin, 22.—A militiaman named Ryan, about to start for America, was arrested at Tuam on a charge of being connected with the murder of Justin Young, shot five years ago.

A Terrible Tornado.

Chillicothe, Mo., 22.—A terrible tornado passed through the southwestern part of this state this morning, doing great damage to farm buildings and fences, and leaving a track nearly a mile in width. Two persons were killed and five others are fatally injured, besides a great many more or less seriously.

The Lost $40,000.

Susquehanna, 22.—The commotion among the officials of the Erie Railroad is over the mysterious disappearance of $40,000 in transit from New York to this place. A package containing the amount was expressed by the Marine Bank of New York, to the Susquehanna Valley Bank here. The bank officials found the package filled with blank papers.
